

QUALIFICATION

This course qualifies as an International Module in Teacher Training and as part of a Bachelor degree in Art and Design.

This course can also qualify for a Master of Arts when taken in combination with other courses.

CAMPUS:

Notodden, Norway

Telemark University College

Postboks 203, Kjølnes ring 56
N-3901 Porsgrunn
Norway
Website: www.hit.no/english
Phone: + 47 35 02 62 00

CONTACT:

Head of Department of Art and Design Education, Jostein Sandven
e-mail: jostein.sandven@hit.no
Professor Stuart Ian Frost
e-mail: stuart.i.frost@hit.no
International coordinator Dag Aasland
e-mail: dag.aasland@hit.no

Art in nature, - Environmental art and forming in natural materials

Photo cover: Stuart Frost - Root ball, Finland

Another way to a career in teaching -
... Teacher for site specific art and forming

Art teacher in site specific art and forming

Do you want to use your creative and artistic talents to:

- create sculpture and installations in natural environments?
- develop ideas connected to environmental issues?
- make art using recycled materials?
- develop an aesthetical understanding of form?
- work with natural materials directly in nature?

All processes must be documented and include didactic reflection.

Theme 1 - Art in nature(winter) 15 stp
Theme 2 - Art in nature(spring) 15 stp
Theme 3 - Scandinavian sustainable formgiving and sløyd 15 stp
Theme 4 - "Eco-art" 15 stp